Questions you should ask your financial professional.

Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?

How will you choose investments to recommend to me?

What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications?

What do these qualifications mean?

Item 3. Fees, Costs, Conflicts and Standard of Conduct

What fees will I pay?

Principal Fees and Costs: You will pay an on-going mutually agreed asset-based fee at the end of each quarter for any of our services, based on the value of the cash and investments in your advisory account. The more assets there are in a retail investor’s advisory account, the more a retail investor will pay in fees, and the firm may therefore have an incentive to encourage the retail investor to increase the assets in his or her account. Our standard fee ranges from 1.10% and 1.20% based on the value of your assets and 0.60% for fixed income only. Our fees vary and are negotiable. The amount you pay will depend, for example, on the services you receive and the amount of assets in your account. Other Fees and Costs: Some investments (such as mutual funds) impose additional fees that will reduce the value of your investment over time. You will pay brokerage and transaction fees when we buy and sell an investment for you. You will also pay fees to a broker-dealer or bank that will hold your assets (called “custody”).

Additional Information: You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying. Refer to our Form ADV Part 2A Brochure, Item 5.A.B.C.D. for more detailed information about our fees.

Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me? What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment advisor? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

B. Standard of Conduct

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means. The more assets there are in a retail investor's advisory account, the more a retail investor will pay in fees, and the firm may therefore have an incentive to encourage the retail investor to increase the assets in his or her account.

How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

Additional Information: Matthew, Michael and Christopher Markowski, owners of Compass are also the owners and manage Markowski Investments, a federally registered investment advisor firm. Michael and Matthew Markowski are involved in the investment advisory process for Markowski and Compass and are also registered representatives licensed to sell securities through Westminster Financial Securities, Inc., CRD #20677/SEC #8-38426 a registered broker-dealer firm. Matthew Markowski is also licensed to sell various insurance products. These registered individuals will receive commissions for the sale of securities or insurance products to you which creates a conflict of interest. Clients are free to choose if they want to purchase these products and from whom to purchase them from. All fees associated with these products will be disclosed to the client in advance.

How do your financial professionals make money?

We are paid an asset-based fee that is charged to your investment advisory account. Some of our professionals also receive commissions for the sale of securities or insurance products. Clients always have the right to choose if they want to purchase these products and from whom to purchase them.
